

This is the companion study guide for ReGen: A Curriculum for Christ-centered Living. You can easily complete these lessons in a short amount of time, coast through and learn little. Or, you can dig down deep. You can search the Scriptures to find out whether or not what is taught really lines up with the Word, read before and after cited texts, compare Scripture with Scripture, let Scripture interpret itself, being diligent to present yourself to God as someone who rightly handles His Word. If you choose to be diligent, you'll spend hours in the Word, and your life and the change He'll work in you will show it. In any case, whenever you're asked a question that requires your opinion, always support your answers with Scripture. Answers without Biblical support will be marked wrong.

Unless otherwise indicated, words in quotations ("like this") are excerpted from the actual text of the curriculum. Look for the word or words in quotations and you'll find your answer!
